- Imagine your partner is a new student. Take them around the class and tell them what the things are in English. They can ask "What's this?" Then swap roles and do it again.
- Ask your partner: "Where is the ....."? "Over there / in the cupboard / on the shelf / in the pencil pot"
- Imagine you are a new student. Ask your partner "Where do we put the ....."?
- A game: Put a collection of the things on your desk. Then take away one while your partner isn't looking. Can they guess what you took?
